Dave Burn: ADSO Vice Chair

I am a consultant providing member and officer training. I am also an Associate with Frontline Consulting providing support to Police and Crime Panels and an Associate with the Local Government Information Unit. Until May 2016, I was Head of Democratic Services and Scrutiny at London Borough of Lambeth overseeing Committee, Scrutiny, Electoral Services, opposition groups, Mayor's Office and Youth Council. I also led on member development and digital democracy engagement.

Until May 2016, I was Vice-Chair of the London Branch of ADSO, previously Chair from 2010-15, and an affiliate of London Member Development Network, which I formerly chaired 2010-13. I also assist the Local Government Association as a peer officer. I have enjoyed my first year as Vice Chair of ADSO and would welcome the opportunity to continue to represent and work with you. I will continue to be enthusiastic and promote an inclusive approach to the role as well as utilise my 30 years plus local government experience. I will continue to help develop the organisation so it can better support our members, using peer activity to provide insight and fresh thinking.
